

Invitation to Helmholtz Ph.D. students: open access webinar

During the forthcoming international Open Access Week 2016, the Helmholtz Open Science Coordination Office will offer a free webinar for Ph.D. students of the Helmholtz Association entitled „Science is open: an introduction to open access“.

Interested Helmholtz Ph.D. students and guests from external institutions are invited to participate in an introductory web seminar on open access and ask questions live on the internet.

We are planning the webinar for Tuesday, 25 October 2016, 3 to 3.30 pm, with a rerun on Friday, 28 October 2016, 11 to 11.30 am.

Registration: There isn't any registration required. Please go to <http://os.helmholtz.de/> for details on how to access the webinars.

We appreciate your participation!
